

Word Choice

Read each question and circle the correct answer.

1 W	ords that have the same denotation are ca	ماله	d
	. acronyms		homonyms
	. antonyms		synonyms
2. W	hen you look up a word in the dictionary,	yo	u find its
	. connotation	-	acronym
В	. denotation	D.	homonym
3. W	hat is the term for the emotions that a wo	rd	stirs in a reader?
А	. synonym	C.	connotation
В	. denotation	D.	acronym
4. Y	ou look up synonyms for minimal. Which w	vor	d do you see?
А	. least	C.	largest
В	. unclear	D.	obvious
5. R	ead the sentence below. The word tranqui	h a	ıs a connotation
7.	he baby looked tranquil as he slept.
Α	. positive
В	. negative
6. R	ead the sentence below. The word dinky h	as a	a connotation.
My mom only let me eat a dinky scoop of ice cream.
А	. positive
В	. negative

7. Read the sentence below. What is the der	notation of the word superior ?
My old computer kept running out of batteries. My new one is superior.
A. better	C. positive
B. worse	D. negative
8. Read the sentences. What is the difference between the words mortified and embarrassed?
A. Sam was mortified when he was called to d	come up onstage during the assembly.
B. Sam was embarrassed when he was called	d to come up onstage during the assembly.
A. "Mortified" is antonym of "embarrassed."	C. "Mortified" is more intense and has a
B. "Embarrassed" is more intense and has	more negative connotation than more negative connotation than	"embarrassed."
"mortified."	D. "Mortified" and "embarrassed" have different denotations.
9. Read the sentences. What is the difference astounded?	ce between the words surprised and astounded?	ndma was coming for a visit.
astounded?  A. Julie was surprised to find out that her grain	ndma was coming for a visit.
astounded?  A. Julie was surprised to find out that her grad  B. Julie was astounded to find out that her grad	ndma was coming for a visit. andma was coming for a visit.
<ul> <li>astounded?</li> <li>A. Julie was surprised to find out that her grad</li> <li>B. Julie was astounded to find out that her grad</li> <li>A. "Surprised" is antonym of "astounded."</li> </ul>	ndma was coming for a visit. andma was coming for a visit. C. "Surprised" is more intense than
<ul> <li>astounded?</li> <li>A. Julie was surprised to find out that her grad</li> <li>B. Julie was astounded to find out that her grad</li> <li>A. "Surprised" is antonym of "astounded."</li> <li>B. "Astounded" is more intense than</li> </ul>	ndma was coming for a visit. andma was coming for a visit. C. "Surprised" is more intense than "astounded" and implies that Julie was
<ul> <li>astounded?</li> <li>A. Julie was surprised to find out that her grade</li> <li>B. Julie was astounded to find out that her grade</li> <li>A. "Surprised" is antonym of "astounded."</li> <li>B. "Astounded" is more intense than</li> <li>"surprised" and implies that Julie was</li> </ul>	ndma was coming for a visit. andma was coming for a visit. C. "Surprised" is more intense than "astounded" and implies that Julie was even more shocked.
<ul> <li>astounded?</li> <li>A. Julie was surprised to find out that her grade</li> <li>B. Julie was astounded to find out that her grade</li> <li>A. "Surprised" is antonym of "astounded."</li> <li>B. "Astounded" is more intense than</li> <li>"surprised" and implies that Julie was</li> </ul>	ndma was coming for a visit. andma was coming for a visit. C. "Surprised" is more intense than "astounded" and implies that Julie was even more shocked. D. "Surprised" and "astounded" have
<ul> <li>astounded?</li> <li>A. Julie was surprised to find out that her grade</li> <li>B. Julie was astounded to find out that her grade</li> <li>A. "Surprised" is antonym of "astounded."</li> <li>B. "Astounded" is more intense than</li> <li>"surprised" and implies that Julie was</li> </ul>	ndma was coming for a visit.  C. "Surprised" is more intense than "astounded" and implies that Julie was even more shocked.  D. "Surprised" and "astounded" have different denotations.
<ul> <li>astounded?</li> <li>A. Julie was surprised to find out that her grad B. Julie was astounded to find out that her grad A. "Surprised" is antonym of "astounded."</li> <li>B. "Astounded" is more intense than "surprised" and implies that Julie was even more shocked.</li> </ul>	ndma was coming for a visit.  C. "Surprised" is more intense than "astounded" and implies that Julie was even more shocked.  D. "Surprised" and "astounded" have different denotations.
<ul> <li>astounded?</li> <li>A. Julie was surprised to find out that her grade.</li> <li>B. Julie was astounded to find out that her grade.</li> <li>A. "Surprised" is antonym of "astounded."</li> <li>B. "Astounded" is more intense than "surprised" and implies that Julie was even more shocked.</li> <li>10. The denotation is the meaning or example.</li> </ul>	ndma was coming for a visit.  C. "Surprised" is more intense than  "astounded" and implies that Julie was  even more shocked.  D. "Surprised" and "astounded" have  different denotations.
<ul> <li>astounded?</li> <li>A. Julie was surprised to find out that her grade.</li> <li>B. Julie was astounded to find out that her grade.</li> <li>A. "Surprised" is antonym of "astounded."</li> <li>B. "Astounded" is more intense than "surprised" and implies that Julie was even more shocked.</li> <li>10. The denotation is the meaning of A. emotional</li> </ul>	ndma was coming for a visit.  C. "Surprised" is more intense than "astounded" and implies that Julie was even more shocked.  D. "Surprised" and "astounded" have different denotations.  of a word.  C. incorrect			